One of today's problems is that students are not being prepared to become global citizens and act as such.

How are other schools using these experiences to their advantage?

"I really enjoyed communicating with other people my age who come from different places and share our opinions and views. It gives me hope and inspiration as now I know that many other people want to make a change in this world. I also loved listening to the guest speakers as they were very passionate about their work!"

Marwa, Student, September 2021 Summit

"(Guest Speaker) Stephen Ritz was by far my favorite part. He was an excellent and inspiring speaker who has obviously made a significant impact on the world and is passionate about teaching young people to do the same."

We believe in the power of learning first-hand from other's experiences.

We also believe students should think critically and engage in dialogue with seasoned practitioners, rather than just listening to them.

We bring in expert speakers whose lives revolve around the issues at hand, so students can better understand the work being done and how they can best contribute.

OUR NEXT SUMMIT:

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), also known as the Global Goals, were adopted by the United Nations in 2015 as a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet, and ensure that by 2030 all people enjoy peace and prosperity.

The SDGs are the blueprint to achieve a better and more sustainable future for all.

They address the global challenges we face, including poverty, inequality, climate change, environmental degradation, peace and justice.

We provide a platform for innovative teachers and students to engage in monthly summits exploring topics of global significance through exchanges with their peers from diverse cultural, geographical, and socioeconomic backgrounds and we want you to be part of this movement.

This month, we will be tackling the SDGs.

WE WANT YOU TO TRY
